Niggling backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exercising, emotional upset or day-to-day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling. But if you're miserable and can't get rid of these discomforts after 7-10 Pilla's after meals by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation; and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys -- tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes...it's time to try another Pilla's. A doctor makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless nights and less nights, don't wait; try Donn's Pilla's. Get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. The big question today is: With relative quiet prevailing, will the Negroes make further attempts to enroll at Central High School? Faubus said he believes it likely that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is "calling the turn" on the actions of the Negro students.

The Arkansas Gazette quoted one of the students today as saying Wiley A. Branton, attorney for the 10 students who tried to enroll, has advised them not to make any further attempts until after Sept. 20.

LONDON (AP) — Ernest Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor, is recuperating from an operation in the Middlesex Hospital.

The 61-year-old shipping magnate was divorced from the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore in 1937.

Simpson was operated on a week ago. He expects to leave the hospital in about two weeks.

United States policy so far has been primarily to try to seal off Soviet influence in Syria to prevent it from spreading into neighboring countries. That is the objective behind the decision to speed up arms deliveries to Turkey, Iraq, Lebanon and Jordan.

DOROTHY DIX

Parents' Divorce Sours Daughter on Matrimony

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a girl of 19, just graduated from high school and with a nice job. I'm in love with a man 25 years old who wants to marry me. I want to marry him too, but not right away. I came from a broken home and have seen many things a young girl shouldn't see. Therefore, I'm confused and hesitant. I don't feel ready for marriage, but am afraid I'll lose the one I love if I ask him to wait.

Dear Prue: If the young man really loves you, he'll understand the reasons for your hesitancy and be patient with you. Don't let your self be talked into marriage until you know you're ready. You've seen the results of a broken marriage; profit from the sad experience. It's a wise person who learns from the experiences of others instead of insisting on making his own mistakes.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I strongly object to the idea of teen-agers going steady. I have a teen age son who is dating steady. We object, but he doesn't know it. The girl is sweet and charming. It's true, but it's up to her mother to curb the situation. The girl should be told to shop around, that there's plenty of time for serious courtship.

Dear Mrs. B. N.: Why put all the responsibility on the girl's mother? Don't you think you have an obligation in the matter too? Point out some of the disadvantages of steady dating to your son. Don't leave everything to someone else.

If your son has found a sweet charming young lady, be thankful, even if you think he's too young. He could very easily be mixed up with the other kind.

Dear Dorothy Dix: After two years of being hopelessly in love with a married man, I suddenly find myself engaged to be married to someone else. My ex-sweetheart doesn't like the idea. He assures me of his love, but won't divorce his wife because of their children. I think this is unfair of him. Should I go ahead with my wedding plans or keep on hoping the married

Debby Seems Surprised at Hit Record

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — The No. 1 record in the nation today is "Tammy" by Debbie Reynolds. No one is more surprised than Debbie Reynolds.

"I'm not only surprised it's a hit," she exclaimed. "I'm surprised it's a record!"

Miss Reynolds' spouse, fellow named Eddie Fisher, has a whole closet full of the golden discs, symbol of the record industry's said he had enough love for two, and knew he could make me happy if I married him. What should I do? If I marry Mel, will love come later?

Dear Carol: Some things we must do for ourselves; loving is one of them. No other person can supply love for you. In time, Mel's patience may be rewarded until it is, don't marry him. The ghost of Barry is still hovering; until it vanishes, don't risk making someone else unhappy, too.

best sellers. Looming in the den of her Beverly Hills mansion, Debbie told the strange history of her hit. She said she recorded the song for a scene in the picture, "Tammy and the Bachelor."

"But I never thought it would be put out as a record," she remarked. "I didn't even do it with an orchestra. I just sang with a piano, and the background was put in later."

She said she was in England when she first heard about the record. Carol had put it out, and an executive called her that the disc had sold 200,000 copies.

"I thought there was a mistake in the cable and he meant 2,000 or 20,000," she said. "I couldn't imagine the record selling that many."

She admitted to being a little embarrassed by "Tammy's" success.

"I'm not even a singer," she protested. "I've got no business having a hit record. If I can do it, it shows what crazy shape the record business is in."

"I feel like apologizing to gals who are really in the business — Patti Page, Jo Stafford, Rosemary Clooney and the others." But she admitted that the girl singers are happy about her hit. "They figure this might bring back hit records for women," she observed. "Except for Gale Storm, all of the hits in the past three years have been made by men."

The name of ragweed, which caused so much discomfort to hay fever sufferers, is ironically derived from the Greek ambrosia, meaning food for the gods.

J.F.-Sr. P.T.A. Meets

The Junior-Senior Parent Teachers Association met on Thursday afternoon in the high school auditorium for the first meeting of the school year with the president, Mrs. F. A. Escure, presiding. The devotional talk was given by Mrs. L. L. Buchanan. Mrs. Glenn Hairston read the president's message on "The PTA Year."

Mrs. Doug Easterling read the minutes and Mrs. Ned Duncan gave a financial statement. Mrs. Wayne Eley announced that the PTA drive would begin Oct. 1. Mrs. H. H. McKenzie announced a tea honoring the teachers would be held at the next meeting.

The 8th and 11th grades were the winners in the room count.

Superintendent J. E. Smith introduced the faculty and the new principal, Tillman W. Wilson after which he spoke on "Improvements that are being made in Prescott Schools."

Miss Hart Weds Mr. Adams In Afternoon Ceremony

Miss Margaret Tucker Hart became the bride of Daniel William Adams at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ross Hart. Mr. Adams is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond David Adams of Little Rock.

Dr. Adams performed the ceremony in the church decorated with white chrysanthemums and greenery. Mrs. Goodwin White, organist accompanied Miss Mary Alvis Daniel who sang.

Miss Mary Brower Hart, sister of the bride, and Miss Janis Turckski were candlelighters. They wore aqua taffeta dresses with peacock blue cummerbunds and pink roses in their hair.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a satin dress with decollete neckline trimmed in motifs of Alencon lace, long fitted sleeves tapering to lily points and scalloped at the hipline. The bouffant skirt swept to a chapel train. Her finger-tip heirloom Brussels lace veil fell from a lace cap, and she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses.

Miss Anne Vassie was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Joan Adams of Little Rock, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. David Stanton Dimling of Boston, Mass., and Miss Marian Hurley. They wore waltz-length dresses of peacock blue with V necklines and bouffant skirts. Their matching velvet bandeaux were trimmed with tailored bows and brow veils. J. Edward Barrett III of Philadelphia, Pa., served as best man. Ushers were Sid Vise, J. Laurence McFarlane, Ed Allison and Rev. Carl Lazenby.

At the reception in the home of the bride's parents the table was covered with an embroidered linen cloth and centered with an antique crystal candelabra with crystal prisms.

For travel the bride wore a gray sheath with a striped jacket and black accessories. Her flowers were baby orchids and stephanotis. After a trip through Tennessee, Kentucky and Pennsylvania the couple will be at home in Princeton, N. J., where they will attend school.

Mrs. J. B. Hesterly Entertains Canasta Club

The home of Mrs. J. B. Hesterly was beautifully decorated with arrangements of late summer flowers on Friday afternoon when she entertained the 1950 Canasta Club.

High score honors were won by Mrs. Jim Yancey. A tasteful salad and dessert course was served to guests Mrs. Danis Atkins, Mrs. Wren Scott, Mrs. Watson White Jr., and members Mrs. J. V. Fore, Mrs. E. M. Sharp, Mrs. W. P. Cummings, Mrs. Imon BEATING THE ELEMENTS—New methods of harvesting grain have wrought a revolution on Canada's wheat farms. Fields dotted with golden shocks of wheat ripening in the sun—once the picturesque trademark of the prairies—are now rarely seen. Instead, most farmers harvest their grain like Saskatchewan's Ed Schiefner, above. The wheat is cut and left lying in "swathes" to ripen on the ground, right. There is less chance of it being affected by wind, rain and hail, which can destroy a crop overnight. "Swathed" wheat ripens in about half the time it would require if left standing.

Fall Shows Coming Back to Television

NEW YORK (AP)—Judging by the first glimpse of fall programming, television's autumn mood is youthful, springtime innocence.

Loose is back with a brand-new waltz, the Hit Parade are singing only of ballad romance, Jim Bowie is out of the corral with the first of the new swarm of Westerns.

On the female side comes Miss America, with a fervent plea for old-fashioned he-man dominance at home and exclusive male rights to popovers.

Any touches of contrast in this bland TV panorama seem chiefly the effects of hurried public service and the exigencies of ad-lib commentary, rather than elaborate long-range planning.

For TV drama, the episode at Little Rock wherein ABC's cameras put the focus on Gov. Orval E. Faubus outsped by a light year such plotted re-enactment of adolescent terror as "The Night American Trembled."

CHANNEL CHATTER: George de Witt, emcee of "Name that Tune" goes a long way to "avoid falling into the 'New York grove.'" Between shows he commutes weekly to Florida.

A TV trade magazine, Sponsor, summarizes all of last season's great new shows this way: 177 launched, of which 16 fell in mid-season; 34 faded later; 64 survived.

Westerns may be getting all the attention as TV's big new trend, but a breakdown of projects filmed for network distribution brackets the biggest group as "crime and mystery" with the thataways second.

Variety will certainly be the spice of Omnibus. Topics listed for the NBC-TV series starting Oct. 20 include a symposium on the bathtub, a Met Opera "novel treatment" of "Hansel and Gretel" and a 90-minute run through the life of Dr. Samuel Johnson.

Ex-Budget Director Gets a TVA Job

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave Arnold R. Jones, former deputy budget director, a recess appointment as a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA).

At the same time the president named Maurice H. Stans, now deputy postmaster general, to succeed Jones in the No. 2 spot at the Budget Bureau.

Eisenhower nominated Jones for the TVA post last June but he was not confirmed by the Senate before congress adjourned Aug. 30.

Gee and Mrs. Yancey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pemberton, Mrs. Clarke White, Mrs. C. H. Tompkins, Mrs. Carl Dalrymple and Miss Lillie Butcher attended the Adams-Hart wedding in Camden Friday afternoon.

Dr. Jim Thomas and Mrs. Harley Cox spent Friday in Little Rock and were accompanied home by Mrs. Thomas and Jim Jr. who spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lange.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Dewoody Jr. and son, George, have returned to Wichita, Kansas after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dewoody and other relatives.

Mrs. Lillian Vaughn of Little Rock was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bemis and was accompanied home by Mrs. C. W. McKelvey who has been a guest in the Bemis home.

Mrs. Joe Bailey spent last week in Hope with Mrs. Henry Hill and Mrs. Georgia Whittemore.

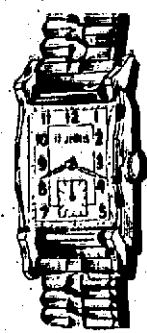

Lola Carol Haynie, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Haynie, was christened at the Sunday morning service at the First Methodist Church.

Friends of Mrs. Blain Hays will be glad to know she has returned home after undergoing major surgery at St. Vincent's Infirmary in Little Rock.

More and More Farmers Work Off the Farm

By United Press

The Census Bureau reports that more and more farmers are finding work off the farm and a study by Census Bureau experts leads them to the prediction that the trend still has a long way to go in many parts of the country.

The report is titled "part-time farming." It's a study based on the 1954 census. It shows that in the 25 years up to 1954, the number of farm operators who work off the farm more than 100 days a year has doubled.

Census Bureau experts expect this trend to remain strong, especially in the lake states, the corn belt, the Appalachian area, and the southeast.

Between 1943 and 1954, the Census Bureau found relatively little change in the number of farmers with outside jobs in two areas, the Pacific Coast and the Northeast. The greatest movement of farmers to part-time or full-time outside jobs came in two other sections, in a wide belt of states running from the northern plains into the southeast.

Census Bureau experts draw two conclusions from their mass of figures on farmers and off the farm jobs.

First, these experts believe the number of part-time farms is declining as part-time farmers find full-time jobs in towns and cities.

Second, the Census Bureau says that increasing number of commercial farmers are working off the farm 100 days or more each year. In most cases, the Census Bureau says you'll find this trend strongest in sections where industrial development is heavy.

For the nation as a whole, the Bureau reports that in 1954 more than 46 per cent of all farm operators did some off-the-farm work, and more than 28 per cent worked off farm at least 100 days.

Yesterday's cotton crop report from Washington may signal a change in the cotton price outlook for 1958.

The Agriculture Department is now estimating the 1957 cotton crop at 12,713,000 bales, up 816,000 bales from the official forecast one month ago.

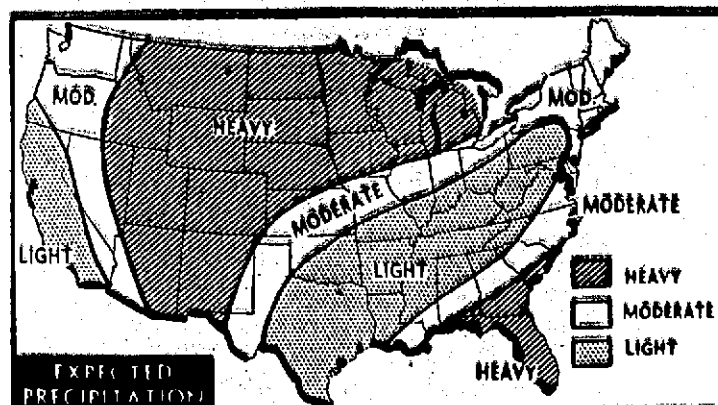

Just about one month ago, many farm leaders were predicting that cotton price support rates would go up sharply in 1958, perhaps close to 90 per cent of parity.

These forecasts were based largely on production forecasts which indicated a crop of 12,000,000 bales or less.

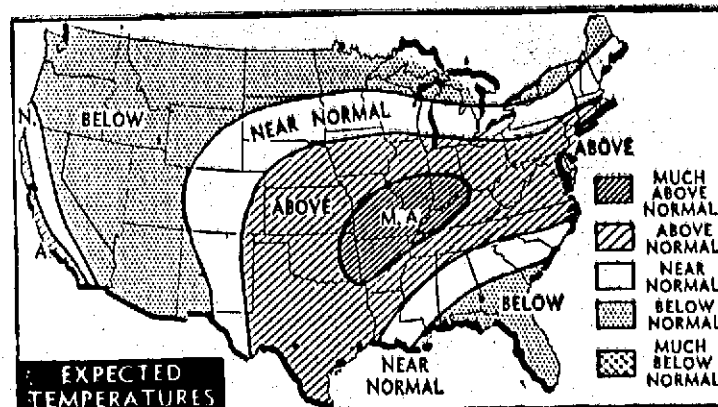

Now, however, the official forecast is up sharply. And an Agriculture Department cotton expert offers this comment — he says if farmers actually harvest the crop that's now in sight, the boost in price supports will be a lot smaller than most people have expected.

USDA officials offer several reasons for the size of this 1957 cotton crop. Crop reporting board experts point out that important growing areas in the mid-south and Texas did not suffer their usual August spell of hot, dry weather this year.

Another USDA expert says yield prospects were boosted by the fact

Precipitation during September is expected to be above normal in the Western Mountain States, the Northern and Central Plains, the Great Lakes region, and also in the extreme Southeast. Subnormal rainfall is expected over broad bands extending from Texas northeastward through the Ohio Valley. In unspecified areas near-normal amounts are in prospect.

September temperatures are expected to average below normal over most areas west of the Continental Divide as well as along the extreme northern border of the country, and in the far Southeast. Above-normal temperatures are anticipated over the remainder of the nation and along the California coast.

Wants Civil Rights Commission Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today President Eisenhower should proceed immediately to set up a civil rights investigating commission.

The commission, authorized in the civil rights bill Eisenhower signed yesterday, apparently would be empowered to inquire into school integration. The law gives it authority to "appraise the laws and policies of the federal government with respect to equal protection of the laws under the constitution."

However, Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader, indicated he thinks the commission ought to approach this field cautiously.

"This was a voting rights bill and the action of the Senate in striking out enforcement provisions for general civil rights should furnish the commission some guidance in its work," he said.

"I think there is in the courts and in the Department of Justice ample authority to make provision for the protection of other rights."

Eisenhower signed the bill without comment. He gave no indication when he might appoint the commission or take other steps in the measure.

More Charged With Mistreating Trainees

FORT CARSON, Colo. (UP) — A sergeant accused of inflicting irregular forms of punishment on Army recruits was to face court-martial today.

Sgt. Jack Riley, 27, of Brunswick, Ga., is the sixth of eight enlisted men from Company I, 39th Infantry Regiment, to face charges of mistreatment of basic trainees.

Riley was charged with withholding mail from recruits, calling a night formation white drunk and punishing his men for not buying special company stationery.

Sgt. Harkules Kleles, 23, of Dover, Del., and Sgt. Edwin Knutson, 28, of Altoona, Pa., will be tried on similar charges.

Previously, Sgt. Robert E. Neely, 28, Polzer, S.C., drew a sentence of five months at hard labor and a $65 per month fine. St. James Hobbs, 26, Conlan, Miss., received a six month term and a $40 monthly fine. Pvt. George E. Fields Jr., 23, Chicago, five months and a fine of $40 per month.

Sfc. Alexander Brown, Warrington, Fla., was found innocent.

British Jet Flight Delayed by Fuel

LONDON (UP) — A British Comet 1 jet airliner today cancelled a scheduled transatlantic flight because there is no fuel for it on the other side.

There were dark suspicions that the fuel was used up by a rival Soviet TU104 jet airliner that hopped the Atlantic both ways last week.

A four-engine Comet was poised to take off on the first leg of a flight to Florida from the Royal

Police Give Up Search for Body

DETROIT — No longer are police poking through garbage cans in search of a dismembered body.

The three-day search in suburban Lincoln Park ended yesterday when officers decided there was no body to go with the hand Joseph Barla, 17, deposited in a garbage can.

Another teen-ager found the hand and police turned it over to Dr. Robert Silery, Wayne County medical examiner. He said it looked like a hand, but couldn't say if it was human.

The search began, finally, Barla's mother called police to say she heard of the search over the radio and that her son had thrown away a skinned bear's paw she told him to get rid of.

The youth got the paw from a taxidermist. Police confirmed a bear paw looks like a human hand when skinned.

Air Force base at Wittering today when the crashing news came through that there was not enough fuel for it at Gander, Newfoundland.

An Air Ministry spokesman explained that the Comet does not use ordinary jet fuel as burned by American planes. But a special mixture known as "navor." The TU104, the spokesman explained, "also burns avtor."

First Complete Game for Hurler

CHICAGO (UP) — When rookie Dick Drott went all the way to pitch the Cubs to a 8-2 victory over the Dodgers Tuesday, it marked the first time since June 2, 1956 that a Chicago pitcher turned in a complete game victory over Brooklyn.

In the final 17 games between the two clubs last year, no Cub hurler went all the way and on although three pitched complete games in losing efforts.

Injuries Still Plague the Razorbacks

Injuries continue to plague the Arkansas Razorbacks as they prepare to start the second half of pre-season grid drills today. Five players were still sidelined with injuries, Coach Jack Mitchell said.

Joe Paul Alberty, promissed sophomore fullback, is expected to be out until the end of the week with a badly bruised toe.

Another soph, standout halfback Billy Kyser, "should be back tomorrow," Mitchell said. He is suffering from a leg injury.

Fullback Jerry Ferguson, a strong contender from the number two spot behind Gerald Nesbitt, probably will not be going this week, the head coach said.

Leroy Mills and Richard Holmes, two linemen, will not be counted in until next Saturday.

Yesterday, Mitchell said he was gratified to see that the boys "seem to be willing to accept an type physical contact."

Defense was stressed elsewhere in Southwest Conference training camps as squads pushed toward their season opens.

The University of Texas worked on pass defense, looking forward to its opener against Georgia Sept. 21 in Atlanta. Coach Darrell Royal was pleased with the work of his first unit yesterday.

The Longhorns posed for pictures instead of practicing in the morning. Halfback Gerald Johnson returned from a knee injury but almost immediately re-injured it and will be out for a few more days.

At Southern Methodist, Coach Bill Meek was hoping for the return of three injured lettermen, Halfback Charles Jackson, quarterback Dave Musselwhite and end Willard Dewhaleb within a day or two. The Mustangs also stressed defense. They open against California at Berkeley Sept. 21.

It wasn't all defense at Colgate Station as halfback John Crow sped 43 yards for a touchdown during a 40 minute Texas A&M scrimmage. The first unit scored eight times it got the ball, using eight plays to cover 75 yards each time. Loyd Taylor set up the second touchdown with a 43 yard run.

Rice scrimmaged with goal line stands the order of the day. Hart Peebles, a letterman guard, was shifted to end as Coach Jess Nelly attempted to bolster his passing attack.

Doyle Traylor completed eight out of 10 passes or three touchdowns in a 25 minute scrimmage at Baylor. Halfback Ferrell Fisher missed the drills due to a hip injury and quarterback Carroll Overton was out with a sprained ankle.

Own Eagerness Keeps Stan on Sideline

By Stan Mockler
ST. LOUIS (UP) — Stan Musial crowding baseball's brightest stars for all-time records, remained sidelined today mainly because of his own eagerness to return his St. Louis Cardinal teammates.

The Redbirds have only the slightest of chances to capture the second place over the Brooklyn lineup could make the difference in whether the Cards take the runner-up share in what could be the biggest World Series jackpot of them all.

Long known as a "team man" and the sparkplug of the Cardinals, Stan may have postponed his return to action himself.

Sunday, when his pinch-hit played a key part in the uphill 4-3 conquest of Cincinnati, he took a full round of fielding practice as well as a long turn in the batting cage.

"I believe his trouble now is a combination of stiffness from the unaccustomed heavy workout and the original injury," trainer Bob Bauman said.

Bauman has been treating Musial with massage and heat therapy since the six-time batting champion suffered a muscle tear and bone chip of the shoulder on Aug. 22.

Since his heavy Sunday workout, Musial has more trouble throwing than hitting, suffering a muscle spasm when he gets the ball away.

When will he return?
"By Saturday," Stan said confidently.

"It's a day-to-day affair," Bauman said. "It just depends on how well the thing heals."

Never before in a major league career of 15 years has Musial been out as long. His longest absence previously was in 1947, when he had appendicitis. But even then he played in 19 games.

Idle Yanks Gain While Braves, Cards Hold Own

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

American League pennant race at a glance: New York's Yankees collect injuries, but Chicago's White Sox collect defeats.

It was that way again last night as the Yankees, rained out in a game with Cleveland, regained a six-game lead when the White Sox took a 7-4 beating at Boston.

Bill Skowron, who pulled a back muscle while working at home yesterday, was on the bench with Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra — the Yankees' three top RBI men — as the champs sloshed through the better part of four frames before the game finally was called with Cleveland leading 2-0.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves moved closer to a World Series date with the Yankees by defeating Pittsburgh 4-5 while second-place St. Louis battled Philadelphia through 14 innings before winning 4-3.

Third-place Brooklyn skidded eight games behind with a 9-2 thumping from the Chicago Cubs, and Cincinnati defeat a New York Giants 4-1 in the other NL games.

The rest of the AL schedule also was washed out.

The Braves were out-hit 12-9 but got the job done with the help of Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, who had five hits between them. They paired home runs in the fourth — Aaron's 40th, Mathews' 31st — for a 3-1 lead, and Mathews added an RBI single in the seventh that nailed a 15th victory for Lew Burdette.

Whammy Douglas lost it, giving up the two home runs that gave the Braves 12 for the season — matching their all-time high set in 1955.

The Cardinals continued their big try on Ken Boyer's bases-loaded single in the 14th — which dumped Robin Roberts to his first 20-defeat year.

Lindy McDaniel, Lloyd Merritt, Billy Muett and Larry Jackson pitched six shutout relief frames after the Phils finally overhauled a 3-0 St. Louis lead and chased starter Sam Jones with an eighth-inning run. McDaniel was the winner for a 14-8 record.

Cardinal Stan Musial showed up as a pinchhitter — the two clubs used 40 players — and hit into a forceout.

Rookie Barry Latman and Jim McDonald shut out the Red Sox on three hits over the last five frames for Chicago, but the Red Sox had nailed it with five runs in the third, three on Jim Piersall's 17th home run. Tom Brewer won his 16th, but didn't snare it for sure until Ike Delock, Boston's third reliever in the ninth, fanned Sherm Lollar and got Ron Jackson on a pop with the bases loaded and three runs already home. Bob (No-Hit) Keegan lost it.

Rookie Dick Drott became the first Cub pitcher to go all the way against Brooklyn this season, winning his 14th with a seven-hitter. Ernie Banks drove in our runs with his 35th and 36th homers and Bobby Morgan added a solo homer in the Cubs' 13th barrage off loser Sandy Koufax and three relievers.

A two-run homer by Joe Taylor, junking Johnny Antonelli's two-hit shutout in the sixth, backed up Brooks Lawrence's three-hit pitching or the Redlegs.

Baker to Fight Martinez Tonight

CHICAGO (UP) — New York's Larry Baker tries to solidify his claim as the ring's upset king of the year by aiming or victory tonight over Vince Martinez, No. 4 welterweight contender.

Martinez, a 28-year-old slugger with 28 knockouts to his credit, is a 12-5 choice.

The Paterson, N. J., battler, who scored two impressive victories this year over former champion Kiki Gavilan, will be making his first Chicago showing since he knocked Chuck Daves into retirement three years ago. He has won 56 out of 61 bouts and never has been kayoed.

L. A. Anxious Awaits Word From Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (UP) — Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson kept a lobby vigil by the telephone today anxiously awaiting word from Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodgers president, whether the Dodgers were or were not moving to California.

Openly pessimistic new about chances of getting the defending National League champions after having joyously declared only last May that "We've got the Dodgers."

Poulson promised he would seek a "yes" or a "no" answer from O'Malley before the end of the National Conference of Mayors convention here today.

The double disclosure yesterday that Nelson A. Rockefeller had offered to buy into the Dodgers to keep them in New York City and City Hall's findings that it can legally acquire land for a new Dodger stadium admittedly was taken as a serious blow by the California mayor. He stubbornly insisted, however, that the door was not yet closed.

"We will do everything within reason to try to get the Dodgers to come to Los Angeles," he said, "but we can't and won't be Santa Claus to them like some of these big names. It has to be a two-way street as far as we are concerned. If Mr. Rockefeller is seriously in the picture, as is quite evident now, I admit our chances are far from bright. Mr. Rockefeller can do what neither the city of New York nor the city of Los Angeles is not in a position to do. A government has limitations, you know."

In Washington, Rockefeller, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, said: "So far, nothing has developed in our conversations to lend us positive encouragement. I wish we had made more progress in keeping the Dodgers in New York."

A statement from his office said: "We have tried every conceivable means of keeping the Dodgers in New York, including willingness to acquire some percentage of ownership in the club, to examine the possibility of expanding the National League if necessary to keep New York represented, and to participate in building a stadium, which could also serve the city's need for youth and sports recreation centers."

Yeger Tigers in Process of Rebuilding

The Yeger Tigers are coming along smoothly in their early work-outs with only 12 lettermen. The Tigers are in a rebuilding program.

The coach is asking boys in the 9th and 10th grades to come and tryout for the team. There is a great need for more boys from these grades during the rebuilding period.

The Tigers last year, with a 8-4 record have high hopes of bettering that mark. Coach A. B. McQuerry says that he feels the Tigers will have stiff competition from Horace Mann of Little Rock, with El Dorado and Jones High of North Little Rock running a close second. He feels that after a few wrinkles are ironed out, the Tigers will be ready to face their opposition.

The returning lettermen that the Tigers are counting heavily on are James McFadden, Jerry Muss, John Scott, John Wilson, and Henry Reed in the backfield, Allen Edward, O. C. McFadden, Willie Brandon, Freddie Morrison, Freddie Prater, James Rogers, and Cal McFadden the line. The line this year will be small with an average of 170 lbs. The backs will average 160.

Season tickets will be available. They will include football, basketball and other social activities.

The first game will be played on Sept. 14, at Hammons Stadium, when they meet Prescott. Local fans are asked to get their tickets early.

See the first football game on September 14.

Blames Denver Air for Fight Sluggishness

DENVER (UP) — Argentina's 22-year-old hopeful for the heavy-weight title, Alex Miteff, blamed the high air and heavy clouds for a sluggish performance on the way to a knockout victory over Johnny Holman last night.

"I was too slow at first," Miteff said in talking over his knockout of the 204-pound Chicagoan in 2:32 of the ninth round.

Miteff, 205, was almost kayoed in the sixth when Holman caught him with a series of rights that sent the South American reeling to the ropes.

Miteff, scoring his 12th victory without a defeat, came back with a body attack that set up Holman for his ninth round finish.

Referee Max Baer and one judge, Bob Sauer, had Holman in front on points through the eighth round. Baer had scored it Holman 39-36 and Sauer pegged it Holman 37-36. Jack Bloom, the second judge, had Miteff ahead 37-36.

"I couldn't breathe," Miteff complained in explaining his difficulties midway of the fight. "My arms, even they felt heavy for four or five rounds." Miteff said it was his first fight with 10 ounce gloves. "They were too heavy, they bothered me."

Kansas State Back at Work

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UP) — Kansas State ends two-day drills today with two guard candidates back in action after injury-caused layoffs of almost a week.

Insurance Firms Told to Clean House

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — An Indiana legislator has charged "charlatanism" in the hospitalization insurance field and called upon insurance officials to clean their own house.

Sen. J. Russell Townsend (R-Indianapolis) told the Indiana Accident and Health Assn. Monday that the "business has become the happy hunting ground of hucksters whose business ethics have no scruples, no morals and no quarter for the unwary."

Hospitalization insurance practices have not been opposed aggressively by insurance agents and companies, he said. Even law enforcement agencies have not always "done their duty," Townsend charged.

"Our laws should absolutely prohibit the disgraceful schemes of sending gangs of so-called agents to overwhelm a community into buying hospitalization insurance and then stealing away in the night leaving deceit and distress in their wake," he said.

Townsend told the group that during the course of a legislative committee's investigation, it had come across instances where premiums were raised without explanation. Some companies had refused or stalled on settlements, he said. In other instances, it was reported hospitals favored certain insurance companies.

"Any insurance agent knows how gushy prospects have become as the result of the charlatans and 'easy money' boys who have infested the field," he said.

Agent licensing laws should be strengthened and enforced as the first step in combatting bad practices in the field, he said. Further, every company "should be subject to civil and criminal prosecution for the misdeeds of its agents," he said.

Agents of the Hudson Bay Company, which has been a major commercial enterprise in the Arctic regions since 1870, can no longer hang a man or marry him in their remote regions. Once they could do both legally.

Stubbornness Forces Needles to Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Needles, a stubborn piece of horseflesh as ever won the Kentucky Derby, didn't make many friends.

"Right now," said Pontaine today, "Needles would run the fastest five furlongs of any horse around. He's got that much heart. But when it was all over, we'd have to send him to the hospital."

That, in a few words, is why Pontaine decided to retire the Florida-bred son of Ponder. Now Needles goes into stud.

Because of injuries, Needles has gone to the gate only three times this year. At the moment, he is suffering from a slight filling of the cheek tendon below his left knee. Pontaine said he feared more serious injury if he kept his charge in training.

"He isn't as mean a horse as he seemed to some people," said Pontaine. "He just has his likes and dislikes about boys. Last winter, we had one he likes and he behaved perfectly. Just an individualist, you might say."

Pontaine said he had thought of trying to catch Needles up. "I worked an old Ladyman, who had the same trouble," he said. "But Ladyman finally bowed the main

Wheat Producers Meet Sept. 16

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of farm bureau federations in major wheat producing states will meet at Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 16 and 17 to try to draw up a new federal program for the bread grain.

Tentative plans already have been formulated for cotton and corn. Both would give growers an alternative program to that now provided by law at present.

Growers of wheat must vote rigid growers of wheat must vote rigid marketing quotas in order to get price supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Some farm bureau leaders prefer programs which would allow farmers to grow more of these crops than under the present program, but with slightly lower price supports than now authorized.

The wheat plan would be part of an over-all legislative program the American Farm Bureau Federation hopes to lay before Congress next winter.

Churches Call for Christian Unity Quest

By LOUIS CASSELS

BERLIN, Ohio (UP) — Protestant and orthodox leaders today called on "every local church and congregation" to take up the quest for Christian unity.

The appeal was made in a "message to the churches" presented for adoption at the final session of an eight-day unity conference attended by representatives of 47 U.S. and Canadian denominations.

It said the Oberlin conference, first of its kind ever held in North America, disclosed unexpected solidarity "among Christians of the varied 'in eritance' on many points of doctrine."

But the conference acknowledged there are still important differences that must be resolved before unity in spirit can be translated into any kind of organizational unity.

It said ministry to Christian laymen in every community must now join in exploring these differences and seeking for common grounds on which "the oneness of God's people may be made manifest."

The churches unanimously adopted a resolution urging the National Council of Churches and the U.S. Conference for the World Council of Churches — sponsoring bodies for the Oberlin talks — to set up permanent machinery to guide local churches in this continuing study of issues and attitudes that bar the way to union.

Maine Joins Rest in Sept. Ballot Date

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Maine has abandoned its first-in-the-morning September election date to join the 47 states that ballot in November.

The decision ending a tradition 137 years old was taken in a special referendum election yesterday.

About a fifth of the half-million registered voters participated. The charge will be effective in 1958.

And starting in 1960, Maine governors will serve four-year terms with a limit of two elected terms. Now the term is two years and there is no limitation. No governor, however, has served more than two years.

The constitutional amendments were among five referendum issues approved in the special election.

Another amendment permits pledging of the state's credit to guarantee mortgages on new industrial plants.

Two bond issues were ratified. One is for 24 million dollars to start paying Maine's share in the 1956 federal interstate highway program. The other raises 24 millions for state-owned ferries serving four Penobscot Bay islands.

Gov. Edmund S. Muskie (D), who campaigned in favor of all five issues, said he was delighted. With only 11 small precincts missing out of the state's 690, the unofficial tally was:

Shifting the election—63,671 yes and 36,029 no.

Four-year term — 60,082 and 41,141.

Industrial loans — 60,215 and 30,641.

Highway bonds — 73,788 and 24,772.

Ferry bonds — 67,920 and 36,401.

Sentences Given Two Burglars

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Gus Jones has sentenced two men to penitentiary terms of 15 years each on burglary and grand larceny charges.

Charles Albert Stevens, 29, of Parkin, Ark., and Ermon Lee, 27, of Mansville, Ky., yesterday each got eight 15-year terms to run concurrently.

Both pleaded guilty to six charges of burglary and two counts of grand larceny, a total of eight for each man.

They were caught by city patrolmen here after a pre-dawn automobile chase last Friday. The burglaries took place in the El Dorado area recently.

Officers said they found a small arsenal in the car used by the pair, including an Army-type sub-machine gun, rifles and shotguns.

At Least He Was Still Driving

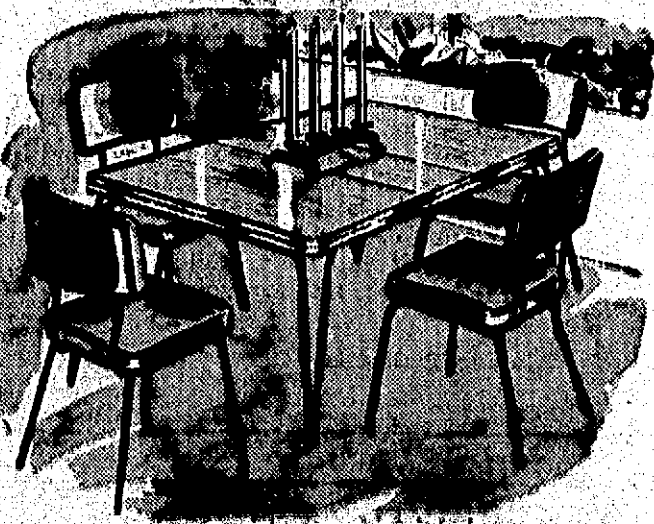

GASTONIA, N. C. (UP) — A driver arrested near here may have been drunk but at least he was driving. That's more than could be said for the rural policeman who arrested him.

Fleischer wound up walking two miles to the police station. The mules wouldn't budget for him.

THE STORY: The man's body fished from a pond on Cape Cod was stolen from the undertaker, placed in a deserted cottage which then was set afire. Sarah Casement has a feeling that this unidentified man was the tramp who may have stayed in the cottage in which she is living — and who was frightened away by Sarah's arrival.

Matter of FACT

© Britannica Junior Encyclopedia

CHAPTER XV

Even in broad daylight Sarah didn't much relish going to the house. She gave herself a shake. There was nothing disturbing there now, just the stairs painted blue, with narrow treads and steep risers, between the white wall. Sarah went up them. The second floor landing was dim. Three bedrooms opened off it — a small one to the right, one straight ahead beyond the bulge of the chimney, and one to the left. There was nothing out of the way in the fit two, no sign of any disturbance, disorder. There was nothing out of the way in the big room either; certainly no one had slept in the beds. Sarah opened the small door to the end chamber, which was long and narrow with a roof that sloped sharply to the eaves. The rough pine floor was unpainted. There wasn't much of it clear, just a narrow aisle partway down the middle and a square in front of the door. Lying across this square in front of the door, long blue handle propped on the nailbox, was a broom.

Sarah looked at the broom, and then at the floor boards. The dust was everywhere else, there was none on the square at her feet. The broom had been swept clean, recently.

Sarah went on staring down. Had the man who later died in the pond returned here to remove, erase, what might be identifying footprints?

At once the heavy air of that place began to get her. She felt as if she were suffocating. She backed out of the end chamber, shut the little red door, turned towards the hall, and caught her breath.

A man was standing on the landing in the dimness smiling at her. It was Felix Satterlee, freshly shaven, rosy, and perfectly groomed, as always.

"Good morning, Miss Casement. . . did I frighten you? I am sorry. I called out but I guess you didn't hear me."

Felix Satterlee had come to borrow a hot plate, theirs had burned out. Mr. Satterlee showed the greatest familiarity with the end chamber, lifting cartons about, going to the right, one. Sarah noticed that Grace's house seemed to be a sort of commissary. "Ah, here we are," Satterlee lifted the hot plate out and blew on it daintily, and they went downstairs together. The painter made only a passing reference to the events of the previous night. Body snatching was an old custom. . . He was more worried about the pyromaniac.

He was a pleasant man, open, friendly and polite. The faint foreign accent was attractive; he was an Austrian by birth and had come to the United States as a boy of 14. Carlotta said he was an excellent art instructor.

Sarah was making tea and thinking about the broom and the end chamber when two men came up the driveway and into the kitchen. One was the fire chief, Ham Danzig, the other was Officer Baker, a Cornwall policeman. The fire chief said they were visiting every house in the neighborhood. The ruins of the summer cottage had been sifted, gone over inch by inch in the hope of finding a clue to the identity of the pyromaniac or to how the fire had been set. In this they had been unsuccessful. But they had recovered a blackened belt buckle and a collection of buttons that might or might not have belonged to the dead man, and also a scrap of material burned around the edges but still bright in the middle, on which the charred body had lain. Deprived of air, it had failed to take fire and so had escaped the holocaust. They showed it to her.

The scrap wasn't large. It was no bigger than a silver dollar. The pattern was unmistakable. Sarah recognized it at once. So she had been right, she and Steven, and Carlotta and Tom had been wrong. The man found drowned in the pond had been here in the house.

The scrap of fabric Officer Baker held out was all that remained of the black-and-white-striped blanket missing from the bed in the front room. Sarah told them about Sunday afternoon, and the banging front door, and the broke rose vines, about the end chamber and the broom. They knew something she didn't know. They exchanged glances, left her and went upstairs. They were there a long time. When they came down they were excited, as though they had discovered something important.

"They had," the fire chief explained while Baker phoned the police station. "Not only was there no smoke in the lungs of the man removed from the charred ruins of the summer cottage, there was no water. When he was thrown into the pond he was already dead. Upstairs in the end chamber, down near the eaves, threads from the black-and-white blanket were caught on the rough wood of several of the beams, and on the floor at the back, behind piled boxes, there was a splash that might be blood, hastily and inefficiently wiped up. There was no saying for sure yet, but it looked as though the dead man lifted from the pond had been killed there, in the store house. (To Be Continued)

The albatross, whose death brought ill fortune in Coleridge's "Ancient Mariner," is one of the most magnificent of flying creatures, having a wingspread of as much as 12 feet. It may soar for hours without apparent effort, and in southern seas the albatross is often the only living creature seen for days. In courting, the birds cross bills and seem to fence like swordsmen, while uttering strange cries.

Group Blames Ashmore and Rockefeller

JACKSON, Miss. —An Arkansas Citizens Council leader says millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller and Executive Editor Harry Ashmore of the Arkansas Gazette are responsible for school integration efforts in Little Rock.

Amis Guthridge, Little Rock, attorney for the Association of Citizens Councils in Arkansas, was interviewed last night over a weekly television program sponsored by Mississippi Citizens Councils. Guthridge did not say how Rockefeller and Ashmore were responsible for what he called the integration push. He called Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas "the savior of the Republic" for his resistance to federal integration moves.

Guthridge said Faubus testified in a Pulaski Chancery Court hearing just before the start of the high school integration fight that 90 per cent of the city's residents oppose integration. Guthridge also criticized Little Rock School Supt. Virgil T. Blossom and said Blossom announced plans to integrate Central High School five days after the 1954 Supreme Court decision against segregated schools.

Neither Rockefeller nor Ashmore was immediately available for comment and Rockefeller's Little Rock office said he was in Jackson Hole, Wyo.

Church Group Calls for Prayer

LITTLE ROCK —A group of church women here today called on the "Christian citizens of our communities and of our state" to join in prayer for "guidance and wisdom" in the present Greater Little Rock integration controversy.

The Council of Church Women of Little Rock and North Little Rock issued a statement saying it was "shocked and dismayed" that Gov. Orval Faubus "has placed military troops within our community to defy the order of the Federal Court instead of upholding the law of the land."

Faubus has ringed Central High School with National Guardsmen, halting the scheduled start of limited integration there.

The council asked for individual prayers and meditation at noon Thursday. The council said it represents the women of seven Protestant denominations.

"We must say . . . that it is our Christian conviction that enforced segregation of any group of persons because of race, creed or color is a violation of Christian principles," the group said. The women said "We believe in the right of dissent and the right of those persons who disagree to follow the due process of law and of those persons who are agreed to follow the due process of law and order in efforts to change laws which they disagree."

However, the council added, "We believe it is the obligation of every citizen to uphold what is the law of the land . . . we are shocked and dismayed that the governor of our state has placed military troops within our community to defy the order of the Federal Court . . . we deplore the un-Christian acts of some of our citizens expressing hatred of others."
